Excellence Awards 2026

Friday, 29th May 2026, 10.00 am, Kolkata

Introduction:

Integrating artificial intelligence (AI) into healthcare is no longer a distant possibility but an accelerating reality reshaping the global and Indian healthcare landscape.

The global AI healthcare market is projected to grow from USD 19.27 billion in 2023 to around USD 613.81 billion by 2034, at a CAGR of approximately 36.83%, demonstrating AI's undeniable transformative potential. Today, India as a developing nation, is carving a prominent niche in this revolution. Reports estimate that the Indian AI healthcare market would achieve a remarkable CAGR of around 40.6% to reach around $1.6 billion by 2025.

As India's healthcare sector is set to hit $650 billion by 2025, growing at 22.5% between 2016 and 2022, AI's integration stands at the confluence of innovation and necessity. It promises to address critical challenges while creating a more efficient, accessible, and patient centric healthcare ecosystem. The future of health in India is rapidly evolving toward a human centered artificial intelligence (AI) model, where technology acts as an enabler to augment human expertise rather than replace it.

In the present context, India is embracing collaborative models to harness the potential of AI. The digital health roadmap, being the focal point, AI in healthcare is moving from the "buzz" phase to "decisive implementation," focusing on transition from experimental AI to scalable, trustworthy, and equitable AI tools to bring improved diagnostic solutions, and address challenges like rural urban divides, high patient density, and specialist shortages.

With this perspective, ASSOCHAM is organizing 6th Edition of HealthMeet, themed The Future of Health: Human Centered AI on Friday, 29th May 2026 at 10.00 am at Kolkata.
