Glimpses of 11th, 12th & 13th International Conference cum Awards on Civil Aviation

India is expected to overtake China and the United States as the world's third-largest air passenger market in the next ten years, by 2030, according to the International Air Transport Association (IATA). Further, the rising demand in the sector has pushed the number of airplanes operating in the sector. The number of airplanes is expected to reach 1,100 planes by 2027.

Historically, the air traffic was concentrated in the key metro cities. However, the post-pandemic growth is expected to be driven by traffic by tier 1 cities and lower. The government has already taken note of this fact and has taken steps to improve infrastructure in these cities and towns. As part of the RCS scheme, number of small airports have been opened and incentives have also been extended to boost connectivity and increase the flight inflow to/ from special focus areas. In a similar vein, the government has undertaken several policy measures to boost other areas such as MROs and Lessors.

While Indian aviation is receiving a significant impetus from government policies, there are certain issues that need to be resolved and certain opportunity areas that can be tapped to sustain the momentum.

In this connection, the ASSOCHAM is organizing 14th International Conference cum Awards on Civil Aviation on Wednesday, 18th January 2023 at New Delhi from 9:00 am to 6:00 pm.
