Odisha Metals & Mining Conference

- Role of Mining Sector in Viksit Bharat -

09:00 AM | 21st November 2024 | Bhubaneswar, Odisha

INTRODUCTION

Odisha is the most mineral-intensive state in the country with considerable reserve bases of key bulk minerals like coal, iron ore, bauxite, chromite, manganese, and limestone, amongst others. Beyond that, the state also has reserve bases of critical minerals like nickel, platinum group of elements (PGE), graphite which are critical for India's net zero transition.

Apart from the above, Odisha is also endowed with reserves of several minor minerals, such as quartzite, china clay, dolomite, fire clay, silica sand, and sandstone, among others.

Historically, the mining industry has been providing the necessary resources for Odisha's economic development. Given the mining industry's multiplier effect on job creation and spurring investment in downstream value-added industries, Odisha's above-average rate of growth of its mining industry has been a factor behind the state's GSDP recording a much faster decadal growth rate than most mineral-rich states.

The state government of Odisha has been undertaking several investment-attracting initiatives for the state. The state has favourably designed the policies for the mineral sector and presented a gamut of incentives before prospective investors in the state. Keeping in mind the infrastructure-based economic growth model of the Government, the domestic demand for minerals will gain a secular uptrend in the near future.

Given the mining sector's potential for job creation and its important role in the Government's flagship programmes like Make-In-India, re-energising the sector by bringing in structural reforms like faster regulatory approvals, addressing issues in land acquisition, infrastructural & logistics bottlenecks etc will aim at making mining an attractive investment avenue and helping the State of Odisha to achieve Atma Nirbharta in mining sector.

The Government of Odisha has taken several initiatives to attract investments in the sector. These efforts include designing favourable policies and providing various incentive to prospective investors in the state.

However, the state government also plays a crucial role in monitoring and ensuring adherence to the designated timelines for various clearances related to mineral blocks. These clearances encompass environmental and forest approvals, mining plans, and land acquisition, among others.

To discuss the above and related issues, ASSOCHAM is organizing 'Odisha Metals & Mining Conference - Role of Mining Sector in Viksit Bharat - on 21st November 2024 in Bhubaneswar, Odisha.

OBJECTIVE

The objective of the Conference is to provide a platform for mining professionals, experts, and thought leaders to share their knowledge and experiences. The Conference aims to showcase outstanding achievements & contributions in the mining industry, honour and inspire others, and to promote best practices by recognizing individuals, organizations, or initiatives that have demonstrated excellence, innovation, leadership, or significant impact.
